Re: Linear Technology Corporation v. Monolithic Power Systems Inc.,
C. A. No. 06-476 (GMS)

Dear Chief Judge Sleet:

We are writing to request a telephonic conference with the Court to discuss the trial date in this matter. Currently, trial is scheduled for April 28, 2008. Defendant Monolithic Power Systems, Inc. ("MPS") requests that the trial date be moved to early June 2008 (or as soon as possible thereafter) to accommodate counsel for MPS. Plaintiff Linear Technology Corporation ("Linear") objects to moving the trial date.

Three Latham & Watkins attorneys – Dean Dunlavey, Mark Flagel and Bob Steinberg – are primarily responsible for the trial of this case. Messrs. Flagel and Steinberg are also trial counsel for Symantec Corporation, successor to Veritas Operating Corporation, in Veritas Operating Corporation v. Microsoft Corporation, Case No. 2:06-CV-00703-JCC, pending before the Honorable John Coughenour in the Western District of Washington ("Veritas litigation"). The trial in the Veritas litigation originally was scheduled for December 3, 2007. However, Judge Coughenour has issued an order, sua sponte, moving the trial date to May 5, 2008. Judge Coughenour has further ordered that the trial will be limited to ten trial days.

As a result of Judge Coughenour's order, we would like to discuss whether the trial date in this action could be moved to early June (or as soon as possible thereafter, depending on Your Honor's calendar). MPS informed Linear of this scheduling issue on December 2, 2007 and asked whether Linear would agree to such a request. Counsel for Linear responded today that they will not agree to a change in the trial date.

We are available to discuss this issue at Your Honor's convenience, and will await further instructions from the Court.

Respectfully,
